PROTECTION to American citizens at home and abroad is the motto of the republican party. On that doctrine a nation can grow.

THE REPORT that Buckingham wears a Cooper and Cary badge on the under side of his coat, to show to Independent unbelievers, is a base slander. He claims to be a Democrat—nothing more, nothing less. All reports to the contrary are campaign lies, circulated for the purpose of injuring that brilliant reputation which the REPUBLICAN has labored so faithfully to build up for him.

Who has heard a single democrat say that he intended to vote for Tom Campbell? Ex-Republicans will do very well for them when there are no dyed-in-the-wool democrats to vote for, but at no other time they must be content to draw sustenance from the rear part of the udder.

THE DEMOCRATS have started the very silly sport that the appointments of Hon. Carl Schurz are to be withdrawn because Secretary Chandler, the chairman of the national executive committee, is not satisfied with the speeches he makes. The fact that Mr. Schurz is going ahead and filling his appointments as usual is the best possible denial of the sensational report.

GEO. C. H. GROSVENOR, Speaker of the Ohio House of Representatives, has written a letter on the political situation, in which he says:

"The spirit of this campaign is similar to that of 1861, only that in that year bullets and bayonets were the sole argument of the treacherous Democracy, while this year they have deceitfully advanced the ballot to the color line, while the old hatred of the North and the Republican party hover in the immediate rear with shot-guns and derringers as an argument in favor of the success they failed of at Appomattox."

The true inwardness of the case could not be more clearly or more forcibly expressed.

THE CENTENNIAL.

A correspondent who has been to the Centennial writes as follows to the Chicago Tribune:

"There are, in my opinion, but few sacrifices that would be too great to make in order to see the Centennial. I give the following as a limit of expenditure for one person, which may be easily secured in a ten days' absence from Chicago:

Car fare, round trip.....$23.90
Sleeping car, round trip.....8.00
Lunches en route, round trip.....4.00
Guide books.....1.00
Board seven days at $1.50 per day.....10.50
Lunches on the ground, 5 days at 25 cents.....1.50
Admission, 5 days, at 50 cents.....2.50
Admission, 1 day, at 25 cents.....25
Street cars, 6 days, at 18 cents.....1.08
Sundry items.....2.97

Total.....$55.00

The usual price for board at private houses is $8 per day for each person, but I obtained good board and lodging for myself and wife at about $1 per day for each by means of preliminary correspondence, and I think it is safe for any one to calculate upon obtaining, with little pains, good plain board and lodging in a private house at $1.50 per day.

TILDEN'S RECORD.

From Harper's Weekly, Sept. 10.
Mr. Manton Marble truly says that Mr. Tilden's "position in respect to the war was never open to the slightest doubt." It certainly was not.

In 1854 he said to Preston King that the formation of the Republican party in opposition to the slave oligarchy "would either be a political blunder, or it would be a political crime, in creating a conflict in which the government would probably perish."

In October, 1860, he wrote to William Kent that the framers of the Constitution "recognized no right of constitutional secession, but they left revolution organized when it should be demanded by the public opinion of the State—left it with power to snap the tie of confederation, as a nation might ride into office, when it will cast aside and all the deformity of his old partisanship stand revealed as the willing tool for the corrupt democracy of Illinois. It is not strange that the Industrial Age of Chicago, and other independent papers of Illinois, are clamoring for his removal from the head of the independent ticket. The democratic party only indorsed the independent ticket, Stewart and Hise, candidate for auditor, and a striking feature is that they were the only democrats on the independent state ticket. I do not condemn Mr. Stewart because he is a democrat, but I would warn the honest, independent voters of Illinois that their candidate for governor is not an independent in any sense of the word, and is only seeking their votes to betray them.

REASONS WHY HAYES SHOULD BE ELECTED.

1. Rutherford B. Hayes is a true man in every respect.
2. His past record is without stain.
3. He professed his services to the Government in the hour of need.
4. He was a brave soldier, and shed his blood in defense of his country.
5. He has given his time and money for the good of the nation.
6. He has never betrayed a trust or a friend.
7. He has never wronged a person out of a dollar which was due him, or failed to keep his promise to the hilt.
8. He has made a good Governor during three years and has kept himself clear of all jobs. His hands are as clean to-day as when he entered upon his duties as Governor of Ohio.
9. He is in favor of keeping faith with the nation's creditors, and redeeming every pledge made in time of war and peace.
10. He is in favor of free schools and the maintenance of the system free from all sectarian influences.

11. He is earnestly in favor of the highest possible purity in the civil service, and would surround himself, if elected, with men of recognized ability and integrity.
12. His past record as a man, as an official, as a soldier, is the best proof of his eminent fitness for the high office of President.
13. He belongs to the army of loyal men who love the Union and who have given evidence of their devotion to its highest interests.
14. His election would secure a sound currency, protect and improve the public credit, advance throughout the world the national honor, and to restore to the people prosperity in all the great centers of trade and commerce.

15. Lastly, Rutherford B. Hayes is a model husband, father, and friend, qualities which honor the man, and would honor the highest office within the gift of the people.
In August, 1861, Mr. Tilden was the New York member of the platform committee of the Chicago democratic convention, which reported, without dissent, a resolution denouncing the war a failure, and demanding a cessation of hostilities.
These facts are undeniable; and who ever may be the Nathan murderer, as the Boston Herald humorously suggests, these facts establish that Tilden gave his money, his time, his influence, to the cause of the rebellion. He served it very much more effectively than he could have served in the field. He declared the course of the government not only to be constitutionally indefensible, but practically futile and hopeless. He encouraged in the publication of his society the most rancorous hostility to the administration and to the administration and to the war. In the same way he paralyzed patriotism and discouraged the raising of men and money. And all this he did under the plea of preserving the constitutional guarantees of liberty. After a war so fierce, prolonged and consuming, to maintain the Union, is there any reason why a man, who held in 1860 that the Union was a "fugitive of confederation," which any state might rightfully snap, and who gave his money, his reasoning, and countenance to those who were trying to snare it, should now be made the chief magistrate of the Union merely because he calls himself a "reformer."

Mr. Charles A. Wetmore, editor of the Alta California, is now visiting friends in Chicago, and he laughs at the idea that California should be classed among the doubtful states. He says: "It always goes republican in national elections, and this year it is sure to roll up an immense majority for Hayes and Wheeler."

NEW YORK, September 18.—Telegraphic advices show that yesterday's storm was violent all along the eastern coast, throughout the southern gulf, the Eastern States and in Canada. Much damage to shipping is reported, and from the interior reports come to hand of houses unroofed and fences prostrated. Incoming steamers experienced terrible weather.

TORONTO, Sept. 18.—The steamer Congratulation, ran ashore on a rock, east of Grafton to day. She had seventy passengers and a fair cargo of freight. The passengers were all saved and forwarded by train. The steamer is not much damaged.

THE DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR OF ILLINOIS A FRAUD ON INDEPENDENTS.

G. W. D. in the Indianapolis Sun.

The independents of Illinois have nothing to hope from this man Stewart; that he is a truckling demagogue was not only evident in his first seeking the independent nomination and afterwards seeking the democratic endorsement, but in now straddling the fence and refusing boldly to proclaim his principles. The democratic party knew their man and indorsed him simply to catch the independent vote; his whole life has been that of a blatant partisan, with too much ignorance to accept and too little soul to enjoy the grandeur of independent action, and the independent cloak is only donned now that he may ride into office, when it will cast aside and all the deformity of his old partisanship stand revealed as the willing tool for the corrupt democracy of Illinois.

In February, 1861, he declared at the Tweed Hall Convention that "he for one would resist, under any and all circumstances, the use of force to coerce the South into the Union."

In April, 1861, he refused to sign a similar patriotic call for a public meeting in New York upon the fall of Sumter.

In February, 1863, he was one of a dozen of the extreme "Copperheads" in the city of New York who formed a Society to publish and diffuse in the darkest hour of the war, the most virulent "Copperhead" speeches and pro-slavery documents, which was doing as shipping arms and ammunition to the rebels. This Society of Mr. Tilden's published, among other things, a speech of James Brooks, in which he said that Mr. Lincoln's proclamation of September, 1862, "seems to contemplate the exciting of the slaves to the destruction, not only of their masters, but of women and children." It published a speech of Mr. Pugh, in which he declared that "the war might have been avoided . . . had not Abraham Lincoln and the leaders of the Republican party refused—constantly, persistently, stubbornly refused—any terms whatsoever."

We have only a being. . . . We have only a being. . . . If I am arrested, as I may be to-morrow or before sundown, and dragged into the presence of a military commission, as Vallandigham was, will you act?" It published a speech of Richard O'Gorman when Horatio Seymour was Governor of New York, and the rebels hoped he would try to withdraw the State from the war. Mr. O'Gorman said, and Mr. Tilden's Society published and diffused his words, "I fear much that, under the pretext of restoring the Union, we are strengthening the hands of those whose policy tends to destroy our liberties. Do you ask what then, is to be done? I say the first thing to be done is to arm the State of New York. . . . Let our soldiers be drilled, then, not merely for parades in the streets, but in camps of instruction, and let them be prepared as men to defend the rights of our State."

Although the Union may fall, liberty may be preserved, and the State may be sovereign yet. . . . Let us remember that each State in its inherent sovereignty is independent in itself. Then we are for the Union as long as it can be supported." This was what Col. Carlin reported that Kill Eagle and Little Wood, with 140 people, all with arms and ammunition, and about 100 ponies, surrendered to him at Standing Rock on the 15th.

Twenty-nine men surrendered, all of whom were in the fight on the Little Big Horn.

(Signed) P. H. SHERIDAN, Lieut. General.

Gen. Drum sent the following to Gen. Sheridan:

HEADQUARTERS MILITARY DIV. OF MO., CHICAGO, September 16th.

To Lt. Gen. P. H. Sheridan, Fort Laramie.

Col. Buell, commanding the Cheyenne Agency, underdate of the 9th inst., says as follows: "Have had messengers yesterday and to-day direct from the hostile camp. They report their camp near Slim Buttes, 180 miles distant, and report Gen. Terry's column on Beaver Creek, moving towards Missouri. The Indians are very desirous of surrendering, but I have stated to the messengers that could only be conditional, viz.: Surrender and remain as prisoners, and submit to whatever punishment the proper authorities might dictate.

10. He is in favor of free schools and the maintenance of the system free from all sectarian influences.

11. He is earnestly in favor of the highest possible purity in the civil service, and would surround himself, if elected, with men of recognized ability and integrity.

12. His past record as a man, as an official, as a soldier, is the best proof of his eminent fitness for the high office of President.

13. He belongs to the army of loyal men who love the Union and who have given evidence of their devotion to its highest interests.

14. His election would secure a sound currency, protect and improve the public credit, advance throughout the world the national honor, and to restore to the people prosperity in all the great centers of trade and commerce.

15. Lastly, Rutherford B. Hayes is a model husband, father, and friend, qualities which honor the man, and would honor the highest office within the gift of the people.

Can any one doubt the superior fitness of such a man for the Presidency? Can there be a possible risk in calling him to rule over the Republic? Is he not just the man that is needed to shape the destinies of the next four years?

Study his character, examine his record, weigh him in all those qualities which go to make up the citizen and the statesman, and he will come out of the examination the same noble man.

With such a leader the Republican party must win; with such a President the nation could not help advance in the path of material progress.

THE LAST LINE ON GOVERNOR HAYES.

OHIO STATE JOURNAL, Sept. 14.

The latest roar back is, that Governor Hayes wrote a letter on the 5th of July 1876, to Samuel J. Tyler, secretary of the American Alliance, in which he accepted membership in a secret political organization and offered the sentiment that suffrage and the right to hold office should be limited to persons born in this country.

1. Hayes never wrote any such letter.

2. He never belonged to a secret political society, and would not, under any circumstances, join one.

3. The sentiment imputed to him, as well as the act, is totally repugnant to every act and belief of his whole life.

4. There is not one word of truth, or truth-seamless even, in any of the charges. They are a complete fabrication, in web and woof, chain and filigree.

5. Hayes, never wrote any such letter.

BEAVER, UTAH, September 18.—The evidence taken in the Lee trial, went to show there were not over twenty-five white men on the ground when the massacre occurred, and they had been deceived as to what was wanted of them. Not over one-third of this number participated in the massacre, and some even of these fired into the air. The Indians did the greater part of the work. Other evidence shows that Lee had confessed the deed, and justified himself from committing it.

CHEYENNE, Sept. 18.—A courier from Gen. Crook's camp, arrived at Sage Creek to night, and bring this news: Since the fight of the 9th inst., the command has worked its way to Bellefonte, subsisting on fresh horse and dried meat, captured from the Indians. The supplies from Deadwood mines were lost on the 13th, and this morning were moved up here.

The march of Sept. 12th, between the Owl and Bellefonte rivers, thirty odd miles, was through mud and rain, and was one of the most exacting the troops ever experienced. The weather has since been good. New life has been infused into the command, whose future movements depend on Sheridan, who has sent for Crook to visit him at Fort Laramie at once.

Tuesday Evening, September 19.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

We are authorized to announce the name of JAC B LICHTENBERGER as an independent candidate for Sheriff of Macon county.

CITY DEPARTMENT

Fresh oysters received daily at Imboden's.

Goto Niedermeyer's, near the Mound, for choice dairy butter.

Call at McCrary's for warm meals or soups.

Adams & Bendure have a full supply of fruit and vegetables.

For fat spring chickens, choice butter and fresh eggs, go to D. M. Barnett & Co.'s. They have also a full line of staple and fancy groceries of the best quality at prices which defy competition.

"Sly Sammy" had better hurry home from the Centennial and look after his interests as a candidate for the legislature later.

The democrats are all going to plump on Elder John W. Tyler for the legislature this fall and leave "Sly Sam" out in the cold.

Call on Billy Niedermeyer for best five cent cigars.

A new invoice of choice jewelry, just received by H. Post, and selling very cheap.

For a nice-fitting boot, made to order, call on J. P. Marsh, in opera block. Also take special notice of his magnificent assortment of ready-made boots and shoes.

The kind of weather we are now having, though pleasant, is calculated to induce chills and fever, and nobody should be without Dr. J. S. Hand's Hippocrate. For sale by all druggists.

While sly Sammy is taking in the Centennial, his Democratic brethren here are busy setting up the pins against him.

Japanese children, according to the report of the Rev. William H. Jenkins, who has just returned from a visit to Japan, are fast outstripping Europeans in the scope and depth of their school studies. Their discipline is perfect, their manners graceful, and their complexion and general appearance greatly improved by the use of B. T. Babbitt's Best Soap.

Commentators have spent hours in following the tiny thread which runs through Tennyson's "May Queen." "If you're walking, call me early," is the cry of the May Queen, who has before her a day's washing, which B. T. Babbitt's Best Soap will enable her to finish in time for the festivities. Always study poetry for what there is in it.

The delightful weather of the past few days is doing fine work in ripening up corn. Some of that which was broken down is straightening up, and the fields are all maturing nicely. Farmers are in good spirits, in view of the abundant harvests in prospect.

All who have seen Prof. Tremaine's sun pictures speak of his exhibition in terms of the highest commendation.

Everybody should make the tour of Palestine with Prof. Tremaine this evening. Those not having season tickets can make the trip for twenty five cents.

Dr. J. Brown, candidate for county attorney, and Capt. T. J. Abel, candidate for the legislature on the republican ticket, speak at the Long Creek school-house this afternoon. Several of our city folks have gone out to hear them.

Several of our people propose to attend the Soldier's Reunion at Indianapolis to-morrow. Several are also talking about going to Lafayette on next Tuesday, on which occasion Hon. James G. Blaine, of Maine; Gen. Ben. Harrison, Hon. Newton Booth, of California, and several other distinguished speakers will address the assembled thousands at the Tippecanoe battle ground.

On yesterday Supervisor Forstmyer took to the Insane Asylum at Jacksonville Sydney Corson, of this city, who was adjudged insane some two years ago and sent to the institution, from which he made his escape. He has since been stopping at home, but had so far relapsed into insanity that his return to Jacksonville was judged necessary. Mr. Forstmyer speaks in glowing terms of the management of the institution and of the accommodations which it affords to its unfortunate inmates. Everything is made as attractive and comfortable as possible.

Sun Pictures.—This is the last evening of Professor Tremaine's magnificent exhibition of sun pictures. Last night the views were of leading cities and an interesting landscape scenery in Germany, Switzerland and Italy. To say that the exhibition was fine would but poorly express it. The audience was large, and all were delighted. This evening the views will be from Palestine, and must be exceedingly interesting, especially to Bible students. Everybody should go.

Attention, Ross Co.—There will be a meeting of Neptune Hose Co. this evening at 7 o'clock. By order Foreman.

Railroad Smash-up—A Crushed Leg Amputated.—Yesterday when the westward-bound train on the T. W. & W. Railway, was at Clymer, Ind., another train came up behind, the engine of which ran into the sleeping car of the train. When the conductor saw that a collision was inevitable he jumped from the train, but the engine caught the colored porter of the sleeping car and bodily crushed his leg. Dr. W. J. Chemoweth being on the train returning from the Centennial, was called to the injured man, and upon learning that his wife was in Decatur on a visit, advised that he be brought through here; the man was accordingly brought through, and yesterday afternoon the crushed limb was amputated by Dr. Chemoweth. The unfortunate man lives in St. Louis, but as his wife is here will be removed to his home for some days. He is one of the regular porters on the Wabash road, and is, we understand, a highly esteemed employee of the company.

RETURNED

S. Einstein has just returned from the market with a new and complete stock of Fall and Winter Goods.

Having purchased these goods before the late rise in prints and domestics, he is enabled to sell goods as low as ever offered in this market. He invites everybody to call and examine his stock, at 21 Water street. [10 dwt]

The Berger Family.—This talented troupe, accompanied by that inimitable facial artist and comedian, Sol Smith Russell, will entertain our people at the opera house on Thursday evening. This is unquestionably one of the finest concert troupes traveling, and they will draw a big house in Decatur. We give below a paragraph from the Knoxville Chronicle in relation to the appearance of the company in that city:

The opera house was crowded last evening to its utmost capacity, and the Berger Family were greeted with an audience that could be brought together.

While sly Sammy is taking in the Centennial, his Democratic brethren here are busy setting up the pins against him.

Japanese children, according to the report of the Rev. William H. Jenkins, who has just returned from a visit to Japan, are fast outstripping Europeans in the scope and depth of their school studies.
